Gould 2005 graduates Saturday

By JOHN NESBITT

The Gould Academy Class of 2005 will receive diplomas Saturday during the school's 169th commencement exercises.

The Rev. Virginia S. Rickeman of the West Parish Congregational Church will give the invocation, and the keynote speaker will be Dr. Theodora Kalikow, president of the University of Maine at Farmington.

Valedictorian Amy Gaidis and student speaker James Hunt will also address their classmates prior to the awarding of honors and diplomas.

Kalikow has served as president of UMF since 1994. During her tenure, the 2,000-student university has consistently been recognized as one of the nation's top public liberal arts colleges.

She has also served as a model for establishing outstanding campus-community relations. In 2001, Dr. Kalikow was inducted to the Maine Women's Hall of Fame.

Nominated by the Waterville branch of the American Association of University Women and supported by women across the state, Dr. Kalikow was honored for the statewide impact of her achievements, her effect on improving the lives of women in Maine and the enduring value of her contributions to women.

Valedictorian Amy Gaidis is the daughter of Cathie and Joseph Gaidis of Bryant Pond. She is a member of the National Honor Society, a head proctor, and she has attended Gould for four years.

She has been active as a peer tutor in the Writing Center, participated in several Gould drama productions, and was captain of the varsity softball team during her senior year. She will attend Tufts University in the fall.

James Hunt, son of Judith Whitcomb of Anchorage, Alaska, and Horace Hunt of Meridian, Miss., has been chosen by his classmates to speak at commencement prior to the awarding of diplomas.

Hunt, who has attended Gould for the past three years, is a student proctor and works in the Writing Center. He is the bass player in a student-run band, and was voted by his classmates as the best musician in the senior class. Hunt's plans are undecided for next year.

On Friday afternoon, Rev. Rickeman will deliver the invocation at Gould's traditional baccalaureate ceremonies at the West Parish Congregational Church. The graduating class has chosen classmate Asa Bearse and faculty member Tineke Ouwinga to address them.

Bearse, a four-year student at Gould, is the son of Lee and William Bearse of North Bridgton.

He is a head proctor who participated in varsity golf, varsity skiing, and varsity lacrosse while a student at Gould. He

NEW FIRE STATION
PRESSED INTO SERVICE. Most local Memorial Day observations went ahead despite the rainy weather, but often with some last minute modifications. In Bethel, with internet weather maps showing possible lightning, the parade was cancelled, and the ceremony was moved from the common to the new fire station, which had been quickly prepared for the occasion by the Bethel Fire Department. The move proved a great success, with some participants remarking that the atmosphere in the building was even more intimate and communal than outdoors on the common. Here Norman Clanton, commander of Mundt-Allen Post #81 prepares to introduce the guest speaker, former state Sen. Norm Ferguson.

Strong turnout for ledges effort

By ALISON ALOISIO

Most of the 50 Woodstock residents attending a hearing Tuesday supported an effort to preserve, at least in part, the Buck's Ledge property.

The Buck's Ledges Committee, working with the Mahosuc Land Trust and Woodstock Conservation Commission, seeks to protect a 640-acre parcel of land that was sold last year by MeadWestvaco to an investment group.

The ledges overlook North Pond and Mt. Abram, and are a very visible part of the landscape as motorists drive nearby Route 26.

The land is also used by hikers, hunters and snowmobilers.

Committee members are concerned the ledges may be sold for development, and are looking at alternative options. They include outright purchase or a combination of purchase and limited development. The total parcel would have to be purchased, and conservation easements are not an option.

An asking price for the land has not been set, according to Marcel Polak, a consultant hired by the committee. The average price per acre of other parcels sold by the group is $670, he said.

The committee has received private pledges totaling $75,000 to help purchase the land, according to chairman Cathy Newell. The money was pledged in response to 200 letters that were sent out last year, she said, as part of a general fundraising effort for the property.

But, she said, to take the effort to another level, the town's selectmen should write a letter of support for the project, and the town pledge a minimal amount of money toward it.

"We need a clear statement

In legend at least, ledge was a layover for those on the lam

By KATHLEEN BEAN

The first time I heard of Buck's Ledge was soon after my marriage, over 60 years ago, when I first came to Bryant Pond in the Town of Woodstock.

My husband's family lived on the Gore Road, close to the north end of North Pond. Members of his family soon made sure I learned all about Moody Hill, Buck Hill, and Buck's Ledge.

My husband and I hiked up to the hill above the ledge where we could look out and see woods and lakes for miles around. As we hiked, I listened to fascinating stories about the area.

There was a cave under the ledge and two interesting incidents are told about this cave relating to the in-laws of the Buck family who lived on the mountain.

It seems that a man named Joseph LaCharrite, had been caught stealing a horse in New Hampshire, around 1860. He was running from the sheriff, but when he reached Woodstock he was shot in the leg by his pursuer.

This forced him to stop and hide in the cave for some time. His friends, possibly his Buck in-laws, in the area lowered food and other supplies down to him on a rope from above the cave.

He may have stayed in Woodstock, possibly bought a farm. Town records showed that he was married to Jerusha Buck, daughter of Bethel ordinances hearing: Should assessors meet at times folks with day jobs can attend?

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Approximately two dozen people turned out Wednesday evening to discuss a variety of proposed revisions to Bethel ordinances.

The meeting was generally amicable, with no serious objections being raised to most of the proposals, but there was one somewhat heated discussion — involving the time at which the town's Board of Assessors conducts its meetings.

Currently, the board holds its regular meetings at 8 a.m. on the first Wednesday of each month.

A proposed change, however, to the town's rules of procedures for boards and committees would require that all boards, committees, commissions and authorities begin their meetings no earlier than 6 p.m.

The later meeting time, most of the selectmen agreed, would make it more convenient for residents and other town officials to attend assessors' meetings — especially if those officials and residents had day jobs.

The 8 a.m. meeting, said Dutch Dresser, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, "seems to prevent just about everybody from going."

Reggie Brown agreed. As a result of the need to deal with assessing issues, Brown said, "I had to take a total of 36 hours off from work last year. 'Ninety percent of the people in Bethel are working at 8 o'clock,'" Brown said, and as a

Before scanners, local fire calls could be a blast, or two, or three

By ALISON ALOISIO

Step through the door of the recently-renovated Woodstock Fire Station and to the left you'll see a communication room filled with modern equipment.

But look to the right, and there's a 1940s vintage telephone sitting on a shelf. And next to it is an old chart titled "Fire Alarms, effective May 15, 1941."

The phone and chart are reminders of town and department history, and of how far emergency communications have come.

Whistle blasts

The chart is a list of the roads in Bryant Pond, with each followed by a number. For example, "Upper Main Street — 21."

The numbers were a code for an air whistle, located on Tyler's Garage, that was used to notify firefighters of the location of a fire.

"21" meant two short, then one long blast on the whistle. Firefighters would know to respond to that street.

Any fire "outside the village" had a single code.

That presented a problem in locating the rural blazes. And as more firefighters made their own homes outside the village, fewer of them could even hear the whistle, remembers Andrea Hoyt.

"Not everyone lived close enough. And in the winter time, even people living close might not hear it, because ev-

NEED CHANGE ON BOARD

To the Editor:

With the annual town elections and meeting at hand, it is not only my opinion but opinions of others that it's time for a shift in the Board of Selectmen. Talk to the gentlemen that are currently running for selectman. Find out what they think, what they feel and when it comes to representing the taxpayers how will they vote. Ask them how best they will represent you the taxpayer.

Every week we see 3 to 2 votes. The three that always vote in the affirmative appear to never want to vote against each other. I prefer to vote for a person that puts the best interest of the taxpayer in mind before siding with his other members who are voting in the affirmative. I appreciate the fact that two members aren't afraid to vote the negative and try to do what is economically feasible for the taxpayer. This is a difficult task to do when you know three members will 9.99 percent out of 10 times vote the same. If this money were coming out of their own pockets would they be so easily swayed to always vote to spend it? My point to this: I don't feel that the present balance on the board represents the taxpayers to the best interest of the taxpayer. If some feel offended by this, then as well you should.

Examples in point: The expansion of the fire station and ambulance garage. To serve the best interest of the town the fire station, the ambulance garage, the town office and the police station could all have been housed in one building. Not a popular opinion with some but let's look at this — one building that you'd pay one heating bill, one maintenance bill and one electrical bill, etc. This would have been a better way to serve the town. Many good citizens in town were on a committee and researched this idea, but when they went back to the selectman they were shot down. They didn't even want to consider such a notion. Why not, many other surrounding towns in the area have combo departments in one building. Where was the logic in that decision?

Second example is the swimming hole. We could have had a beautiful beach at Songo Pond if the town would have allowed the citizens of Albany usage. Instead we have a swimming hole out on a road that is filled with truck traffic and access is just past a very sharp corner. This year $12,000 was voted to maintain this area. This cost will not go down and if the residents of Albany want to swim there they can use it. It's not like you have to show an I.D. to use it. Where was the logic in that decision?

Third example. We spent money on a new computer accounting system and we don't even have a clear idea of what is in the undesignated fund balance. To me this is absolutely ludicrous. How can something like that happen? In banking, we have to balance the books every day. We know our net profit each and every day. Where's the logic here?

Fourth example. A few years ago, the town had two bids to buy a new (I believe) one-ton truck. Of course one was less than another, yet the selectman opted to go with the more expensive quote because we had a relationship with this vendor. So what! If I find a vehicle at a dealership at a better price than the one I purchased from before and it's the same thing I wanted, "Why would I pay more because I liked the dealer?" So the taxpayer footed the bill for a vehicle that was higher in cost than what was necessary.

Now the selectmen want to go with a less expensive revaluation firm because "now" taxpayer funds are tight. The selectmen didn't mind spending extra money on a vehicle when they could have saved money, and now they are concerned about spending a little more on the revaluation and want to go with the lesser cost. In the long run, after talking with a couple of assessors, the firm the selectmen want to use will likely end up costing us more (due to an incompatible software program?). So today on the revaluation they are concerned about saving us money, but two years ago on a truck they weren't! Where's the logic in that?

Think about what you want from your selectmen. Do you want someone who will represent you and your tax dollars or do you want people who vote with the majority of the board all the time? Think about it.

Look at the trouble your state is in right now, if you want a clear example of "A Sad State of Affairs." You don't borrow money to cover a deficit. You cut your expenses and you budget your life. You might borrow money to consolidate bills, but not to cover (as an example) a gambling debt that has gotten you in the hole. That's another story altogether.

CAMP CLEAN UP THANKS

To the Editor:

The staff at the Maine Conservation School in Bryant Pond want to thank the many volunteers for their help during our Camp Clean-Up Day on May 7.

Local residents as well as some high school students weathered the rain and spent hours raking, mulching, cleaning and prepping our campus for the 2005 season. We especially want to thank the members of the Bethel ATV Club for their time, manpower and equipment. With their help we were able to move and spread several yards of bark mulch for our ropes course, remove fallen debris from our walking trails and stack firewood. Thank you everyone for all you did.

Candidates reply to Chamber questions

On June 14 Bethel voters will fill two three-year terms of the town Board of Selectmen. Incumbents Dutch Dresser and Jack Cross are seeking reelection, and are being challenged by Dennis Doyon, Wally Hannigan and Bob Everett. In the space below Dresser, Doyon, Hannigan and Everett respond to questions (italics) posed by the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. Cross did not reply in time for inclusion of his answers in this week's edition, but we will plan to print them next week.

1) What is your vision for capital improvements (e.g., Sunday River Road upgrade, transfer station upgrade) that will enhance the Town of Bethel's infrastructure for the next five years?

Bob Everett: It is always difficult to identify the capital improvement projects needing to be the next one on the list. One approach is to have the select board establish a committee to identify the need, using materials already in existence. The town has a very good comprehensive plan and a five-year capital improvement plan and we need to use them.

Dennis Doyon: There are many upgrades that need to be addressed such as ditching, tree pruning and ongoing maintenance on outlying roads. The town also needs to consider additional upgrades to the transfer station and wastewater treatment plant to better support our community as it grows. Bethel is in the midst of a construction boom right now but that doesn't mean that taxes will need to be increased dramatically. The town needs to carefully assess what infrastructure or equipment needs to be upgraded and do it gradually so that we are not faced with huge tax increases.

Wally Hannigan and Dutch Dresser: See below for combined answers to questions 1 & 2

2) Given your vision and recognizing that dollars are tight for capital improvement projects, what funding strategies do you have in mind to support the capital improvement plan of the Town?

Bob Everett: As always, capital improvements are needed in any town to meet the needs of its citizens; now and in the future. Regardless of what they may be, there has to be balance between need, expenditures, and funding. There are many worthwhile projects any town may have, but can the town afford them? Once the project is identified and determined to be critical, funding becomes the problem. How can the project be funded: grants, TIF, or local appropriations? All avenues should be explored. The final thought is very basic. At a time the project is identified, can the town afford the project? You don't spend more than you make.

Dennis Doyon: As with any business the town needs start an annual review process of all the infrastructure and equipment it owns. The selectpersons need to visit town facilities and talk with the employees in order to make informed decisions. Then the selectpersons and budget committee can better decide what to upgrade and plan how to pay for it. There have been times in the past where minor upgrades were put off and then later on we were faced with a larger expenditure with fewer options available to correct the problem. Town services are a business and the taxpayers are its revenue. I think it is much easier to accept tax increases if careful review and planning has been done instead of someone saying "oops we missed that upgrade and it is going to costs more to fix it".

Wally Hannigan: (Combined questions 1 & 2) Bethel has and is experiencing a lot of growth. In order to prioritize capital improvements, I feel we need to take the time to assess how well we have adjusted to all the growth. By scheduling joint meetings with the various boards and departments we could better identify where the most immediate needs are and plan ahead to what needs the most improvements to keep up with the current/future growth. As the recent budget meetings have shown, Bethel's funds have dwindled and there is still unfinished business that we don't know what the final bill will be. So this may be the best time to pay down debt and build up our rainy day funds. Part of the strategy should be to take advantage of grants when available. Also, as just some recent projects have shown – Swimming Pond, Snowmobile Bridge, and now the Trail's grant – our community is outstanding in volunteer work, employees, and spirit.

Dutch Dresser: (Combined questions 1 & 2) The answers to the first two of the Chamber's questions are closely tied; I'll treat them together. In my view two of the primary responsibilities of local government are responsible development and maintenance of public infrastructure and appropriate attention to the public safety. Expenses related to these two responsibilities fall in different parts of the Town's budget—the departmental operating budget and the capital improvements budget. The departmental operating budget is devoted to commitments like salaries, benefits, and the costs of material to run the Town's departments; these commitments are difficult to change quickly.

The capital improvements budget contains funding for the equipment used by departments and the appropriations for infrastructure construction and maintenance such as road work. This part of the budget is the easiest to defer when money is tight. No people are laid off, no salaries or benefits are cut, and no staffed departments are deprived of the materials needed to do their work. However, cuts in this budget do generally lead to deferred infrastructure maintenance or improvement needs.

There are a number of capital improvements that are important for both the immediate use of taxpayers and the general economic development of the community. Regular maintenance and upgrade of existing roads, including the State supported reconditioning of the Sunday River Road, is very important to the well-being of our region. Good road maintenance must be returned in good measure to our capital improvements budget.

While not a matter for taxpayers, it will ultimately be important to the community to have sewer services extended out route 2 beyond the Androscoggin. The Selectmen have done well preparing for that development by extending service to the new multi-purpose bridge using sewer district funds. We should look for State and Federal funding to facilitate this very important extension of infrastructure.

The development of a more extensive recreational pathway system in the region using various external funding sources will greatly enhance the appeal of the area for outdoor tourists throughout the year.

The two Chamber questions are so tightly linked because we have to find ways to make systemic changes in the way the town delivers services to break the deferred capital expenditure cycle we're deeply in now. Finding ways to reduce quickly escalating solid waste disposal costs is also important and could be one of the systemic changes in the budgeting process. It's very unfortunate that we weren't able to fund a beginning phase of improved waste handling capability at the landfill this year because that investment would make lasting change in on-going expenses. Careful analysis of our treatment of municipal solid waste must be on the agenda for the Selectmen for the coming year.

3) What is your vision of the economic future of Bethel? Do you think the select board has a role in guiding this future? If so, please provide an example of a project/policy you think is important for the group to move forward on in the coming year(s).

Bob Everett: I believe the future of Bethel is very good. The town is seeing a shift from an economy driven by manufacturing to one of service and recreational jobs. The select board, as always, is critical in any town's future. The select board has to work with all entities; committees, chamber of commerce, and private business to promote a climate where by businesses are willing to come to Bethel. I believe one of the many projects needed to be addressed in the coming year is the upgrade of the Tri Town transfer station. Here is a project, although having an initial up-front cost has the potential to eventually turn into significant savings for all towns involved.

Dennis Doyon: There seems to be a tremendous amount of money being spent in other communities to attract businesses into those areas. I don't believe Bethel should try to duplicate the efforts of other towns in trying to attract a large manufacturing employer because of our geographic location. The Bethel area has a number of good businesses in the recreation, service and construction areas. I think it is the duty of the select board to realize what opportunities are currently available and work with those employers to make our community economically attractive so that our young people have a reason to stay or return to the Bethel area.

Wally Hannigan: Bethel needs to start working with the surrounding towns to pool resources and developing economic growth. Our tourist industry is strong and we all appreciate it. Yet we also need to attract more business to create more livable-wage jobs. I would like to see us checking on where we are at according to our Comprehensive Plan, bring it up to date and explore every possible avenue to make our town the best it can be for all citizens.

Dutch Dresser: It seems likely to me that Bethel will continue to be at the center of a region with a variety of economic focuses. Surely the wood products industry will continue to play a role in the economy of the region for the foreseeable future, and, hopefully, tourism will continue to grow and flourish. I would like to see new growth in summer tourism and in technological development opportunities. Both tourism and businesses aimed at digital development cluster around places that are nice to live in; Bethel certainly fills that bill. Growth of arts opportunities in the region could encourage both sorts of development.

The local government will play a significant role in whatever type of development is considered for Bethel either intentionally or inadvertently. There are two important things those working for the public good can do right now: make sufficient systemic changes in the budget to ensure an appropriate level of capital improvement funding in coming years; and, remain informed about economic development efforts that people are making in the region.

THE IMPORTANT THING IS TO VOTE

To the Editor:

We are being asked to take someone's property again. This does mean we will take properties and we will pay fair market value for these properties, and we will also build this road to town standard and forever plow and maintain it. And what were their names again? Is this double dipping? How much did the town spend in legal fees, fighting this and lost?

The Swan Hill Road — Our town ordinance states that all roads must meet town standards before they can become a town road. This ordinance does not allow any waivers. (We owe the authors of this ordinance a big thank you — for the money they have saved our town.) Does this road meet town road standards? I asked this question at a selectmen's meeting. The answer was they didn't know. Shouldn't this be the first question? My second question: Can our select board legally override a town ordinance?

Take a ride on the Intervale Road and notice all the subdivisions, the condition of the roads and the amount of traffic there. Look at the edges of the road that can't be ditched, because the pipeline is there.

Check out the Town of Bethel's web page — no recent agendas or minutes for meetings. There has never been any from our select board.

You can choose to agree or disagree, that is your choice. The important thing is go vote, for what and who will best represent you.

MARVELOUS SUPPORT OF KIDS

To the Editor:

I would like to commend Trendsetters Too for their marvelous support of community children in their role of hosting students in the Mahoosuc Kids Association's (MKA) Telstar Middle After School Program. Three students, who are participants in the Sharper Image program after school, were given the royal treatment on May 10 from owner and stylist Diane Ronan, and skin care and nail technician Kathy Berberian.

Kathy started by giving each student a pedicure while they enjoyed the massage chair and soaked their feet. Afterward they picked out nail polish for Kathy to apply. Diane took over from there and gave each student an elaborate hairstyle for the day. Later they returned to Kathy to learn about skin care and techniques for keeping skin healthy.

Diane and Kathy generously donated their time and resources to our program including giving the students gift baskets full of pedicure products. The students left feeling very relaxed, pampered and with new confidence in themselves. The Sharper Image program is designed for students interested in exploring their individuality and maximizing their unique physique. It gives students health care tips to look after their bodies while nourishing their self-esteem. This is especially important for girls, and the month of May in Maine is Turn Beauty Inside Out month. The Sharper Image crew did just that with the help of Trendsetters Too.

MKA is always looking for community volunteers and businesses to support our youth after school. For more information about MKA programs or if you have an interest in working with students after school, please contact Julie Hart at 824-7007.

Sun Journal adds to local stable

LEWISTON — The Sun Journal group of newspapers, which includes The Bethel Citizen, has purchased the Rumford Falls Times and Advertiser-Democrat of Norway. The purchase was announced Tuesday by Sun Journal Publisher James Costello Sr., who said he planned no major changes in the operation or staffing of the two local newspapers. "These newspapers reflect the communities they serve, just as the Sun Journal has done for over 100 years," Costello said. The Rumford and Norway newspapers had been owned since 1976 by Howard James, a Pulitzer Prize winning journalist who said he planned to retire in order to spend more time with his family and to focus on book writing. Citizen Publisher Ed Snook will oversee the operations of the Rumford and Norway newspapers.

Liquor sales vote in Andover

ANDOVER — Residents will vote June 14 on whether to allow restaurants in town to serve alcohol. Approval would give the State Liquor Commission the authority to grant liquor licenses in Andover. A similar vote took place 20 years ago, and the measure was defeated. The question comes before voters now because the owners of the Snow Valley Family Diner, have petitioned the town successfully for a vote. If approved, the diner could then apply for a license. Voting will take place at the same time as the SAD44 school budget referendum. Voting hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Town Hall.

a result the assessors "are not getting public input because of the time of day they meet."

But Selectman Stan Howe, who is also an assessor, begged to differ.

"It's important to keep in mind that the people of Bethel have elected this Board of Assessors," Howe said, "and they should be able to decide when they want their meetings — and through many years of work the board has settled on 8 o'clock in the morning."

"I know that some people can't make it," Howe said, "but some people can't make it in the evening either."

And if people can't get to the assessors meetings, Howe said, "We do have minutes."

Other Changes

The matter of meeting hours will be decided by voters at Town Meeting, June 15.

Other changes also to be taken up at that time include raising to $10,000 the amount of money above which town purchases must be put to competitive bid.

The current level, $3,500, is proving increasingly unworkable, Town Manager Scott Cole said, especially when it comes to road and earthwork.

"Such projects often cost more than $3,500 and must be done quickly," Cole said.

"As a practical matter time isn't there to shop it," Cole said. "The price of goods and services is such that probably $10,000 is more practical for the town."

Other changes would reduce the number of members on the Airport Authority to five, two less than the current seven.

Asked why the change had been proposed, Dresser replied simply that the Airport Authority "has become an unmanageable thing."

Town Meeting voters will also deal with a change to the town's subdivision regulation as it relates to fire protection.

The change would require that applicants provide "adequate water storage facilities" if they wish to build in areas where the town's Comprehensive Plan has identified the need for additional water storage facilities for firefighting.

The new facilities could include "underground cisterns or ponds with dry hydrants or other methods acceptable to the fire chief."

Asked if a sprinkler system could be among the "other methods" he would be likely to approve, Fire Chief Jim Young said yes.

Dresser was asked why the revision did not make sprinklers mandatory.

He cited political reality.

"It was politically unacceptable to the group that [drafted the changes] to impose sprinkler systems on the residents of Bethel at this point," he said.

Al Cressy, chairman of the Planning Board, described the proposed amendment as "a baby step. That's how I see it. The Planning Board has been struggling with fire protection for far-out developments for some time now. We see this as a needed protection."

to go out and look for money," Newell said.

Whether to pledge town money would be voted upon at a Town Meeting.

Two people at Tuesday's hearing said they were opposed to any sort of compromise that would include sharing the land with a developer. One favored raising money and simply purchasing as much property as possible.

Bill Coolidge said he did not want to see the ledge property suffer a fate similar to what happened along Crystal Lake in Harrison. There, houses perched on the top of a steep hill are visible from the lake and nearby Route 117.

He also said he had observed peregrine falcons in the area. Ed Rosenberg said the effort should be phrased in terms of "what it is the people of this town are for."

He said Woodstock might be fortunate that the opportunity to help preserve the land is coming along now, rather than in the future when the cost might be far greater.

North Pond resident Sayward Lamb agreed, saying that now is the time for the town to act.

Polak, who is also a Woodstock resident, said he would ideally like to buy the whole property outright, but he felt the tradeoff of sharing the land with a developer was worth it.

"One hundred acres of development in exchange for protecting 500 acres is a pretty good deal," he said.

He said other towns, such as Errol, N.H. have purchased land as "town forests," and then manage it for recreation and wood harvesting.

In a straw poll at the end of the hearing, the majority of people indicated they wanted the selectmen to sign a letter of support. The board is expected to take up the issue at its next meeting, on Tuesday.

Polak said he planned to present a report on the project to the Mahoosuc Land Trust board in July.

Cave

was married to Jerusha Buck, daughter of John and Hannah Buck. John had a farm on what is now called Buck Hill.

Another tale was told about Peter Brooks, son of Charles Brooks. Peter was a deserter from the Army during the Civil War. He also hid in the cave and had supplies lowered to him by his family. His name is on the Civil War military records as being inducted into the Army but not discharged. He was married to John Buck's daughter Arvilla who died and he later married her sister Jane.

There are a couple of theories on the origin of the name of Buck's Ledge. One is that the ledge was named for John Buck, son of Simeon who lived east of the ledge, or for an earlier John Buck, father of Simeon.

Another is that it was named for the untimely end of a buck deer that went over the precipice. Local historian Ruby Emery notes in her Hamlin's Gore publication that some referred the ledge to Cow-Kill Ledge, for obvious reasons. She lists the elevation of the ledge as 1300 feet, from a base elevation of 719 feet, and a height climb of 580 feet.

The cave under Buck's Ledge still exists, but is almost impossible to reach now, due to all the tangled growth around it. (Sources: Lapham's History of Woodstock; Ruby Emery's Hamlin's Gore.)

everything was closed up," she said.

Hoyt was an operator with the Bryant Pond Telephone Co., which shut down operations in the 1980s as the last "crank" style system in the country.

Over the late 1940s and 1950s, telephones were increasingly used to contact firefighters, she said.

The Bryant Pond operators in that day played the role of today's 911 dispatchers.

If someone called to report a fire at their home, the switchboard was almost as effective as today's E-911 system, which shows the location of the caller.

"If it was a private line, we'd know where it was by which light on the board went on," said Hoyt. So even if the caller failed to give a name in the emergency, the operator would likely know.

In any case, she said, "We'd start calling as many firefighters as we could."

And if a line was busy, "we had permission to break into a private call," said Hoyt.

During the 1950s, the company installed in some firefighters' homes phones dedicated exclusively to fire calls.

The operators also served as village criers, said Barbara Hathaway, another operator.

"When the fire trucks would go up the street, people would start calling to ask where the fire was," she said.

When the crank phones went out of business, firefighters switched over to a pager-style system. Since then, the communication technology has continued to improve.

The cost has been the personal touch. "We knew everyone," said Hathaway.

Gilead

It's Sunday again and more rain. At least there has been a break in the raindrops to let the sun shine through instead of the constant rain that we were getting. I had a chance to get out on Saturday and check out a few of the yard sales in the Bethel area. A couple of columns ago I wrote "April showers bring May flowers."

Joann K. has another saying to add to that. She told my brother to let me know that "A wet May fills the barn full of hay."

The last conversation that I had with my brother, Steve McLain, I found out that his son, Capt. Stephen McLain had made it to Baltimore and then on to Texas. I have been so busy this Memorial Weekend that I haven't had a chance to find out, but I am sure by now Stephen has made it to Ft. Sill, Okla., where his wife and children have been waiting for him.

My brother left me a phone message and sent me an e-mail because he could not seem to catch up with me. He wanted to wish me a Happy Birthday today. Besides celebrating my birthday with my grandchildren, William and Annie, I have been trying to get a lot done on this long weekend. There is a lot of yard work that needs to be done and flowers that needed to be planted at the cemeteries.

I had an e-mail from Jack and Bruna letting me know what has been happening on the other side of the river on Mt. Tumbledown Road. Bruna writes: "Cynthia Handlen graduated from the University of Southern Maine on May 14. Congratulations go out to Cynthia. To put icing on the cake, she graduated Summa Cum Laude. A trip to Portland to see her graduate also gave us the opportunity to dine at a delicious Thai restaurant in "the big city" and to meet Cynthia and Paul's sons.

"Some of us have had visits from a bear or bears — they all look alike, you know. It took us a while to smarten up and put the birdfeeders in at night. But it gave us some excitement to see a bear on our decks re-designing our feeders. We've had visits from some Baltimore orioles among other delightful species. And this morning Jack was walking up the driveway from getting the Sun Journal and saw a pileated woodpecker. Hopefully we'll have more visits from it in the near future.

"How wonderful to see the sun and blue sky after so many dreary days. We are now able to work in the garden and get some planting done. The squash plants are starting to flower in the basement. Hopefully, we can get them in the ground before long."

Hugh and I ran into Cynthia at Wal-Mart on Friday. I hadn't seen her for quite awhile. It was nice to catch up. Congratulations are certainly in order on her graduation. That is quite an accomplishment. We also saw Mary Newton there and she caught us up on how her husband, Roy, is doing.

We decided to stop by Wal-Mart again on Sunday when we went to the cemetery in Gorham. We ran into Bill 'Tut. Bill and Gale have just returned from a trip to California where they attended the graduation of Gale's niece. Need to go to Wal-Mart to see the neighbors.

We also have several hummingbirds at our feeders. There is a pair of Baltimore orioles that come to the hummingbird feeders several times a day. The hummingbirds do not seem to mind our presence in the lawn swing, but the orioles are a little more wary.

Planning Board

Remember there is a regular meeting on June 2 at the Hall. The special Town Meeting is on June 15 at 7 p.m. at the Hall. There are copies of the ordinances available at the Town Office on the North Road. These will be voted on June 15. It is a good idea to be informed about them and understand them. There have been public hearings to inform the residents, but the Planning Board and the selectmen are available to answer questions that might still arise.

Got any news? Call 836-2987 or e-mail chapmal@hotmail.com.

Hanover

The annual meeting of the Gardner Roberts Memorial Library Board of Trustees will be Sunday, June 5, at 1 p.m. The meeting will be at the library on the Howard Pond Road. The library is looking for new members to join in the organization with little time commitment expected. The first item on the agenda will be to amend the bylaws to allow men to serve on the board. Both women and men are encouraged to attend the meeting this Sunday. For more information, contact Deirdre O'Callaghan, president, on her cell phone at 650-5479. Deirdre reports that she would like to become a past president and she hopes someone will step forward for the position. There will be refreshments.

Richard and Stacy (Swan) Fidler are receiving congratulations on the recent birth of their son, Richard Azariah Keith Fidler, Jr. The baby is the grandson of Bruce and Debbie Swan of Springfield, and among great-grandparents are Rose and Melburn Hutchins of Hanover.

The Androscoggin River canoe/kayak trip for Pine Tree Camp (Paddle for Pine Tree Camp) will be Saturday, June 4. Participants will gather at the Hanover Town office at 8 a.m. and start down the river at 9 a.m. The take-out is at the boat ramp in Rumford near McDonald's Restaurant. From there they will return to the Hanover Town Office for a barbecue. There is still time to sign up for the trip; pledge forms are available at the Hanover Town Office.

Barb and Irv Robinson began their cross-country bicycle trip at Bar Harbor on May 25, and due to bad weather they only went 28 miles the first day. Drenching weather the next day kept them off the road. After that they went to Rockport, Wiscasset, and at last report they were traveling toward Richmond and Lewiston with weather conditions improving.

The Memorial Day holiday brought more visitors to the area. More enjoyable weather gave folks a chance to do more outside. Some folks went fishing and others mowed lawns and did yard work. Not many were seen swimming, as the water temperature has not warmed up much due to days and days of cool, damp weather.

Hi readers. Fred Fox is at home now after having knee surgery.

Hope you are getting along okay now, Fred.

Carol "Squeak" Buck is at the Norway Rehab. & Living Center and is improving every day. That is good news.

I expect you all have noticed the American flags are up on the poles throughout town. They look good. Albert Fox put them all up. They look nice and new and fresh. Thanks, Albert Fox. This is a good thing to be done.

Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19 met last Wednesday night, May 25, at the K. of P. Hall here in Stoneham for their meeting. Tent President Gail Butterfield opened the meeting at 7:45 p.m. There were seven members present.

The charter was draped in memory of deceased member Kathy P. Grover. At this meeting they held a Memorial program in honor of deceased members of the laying of red, white and blue carnations on the altar by the Bible as their names were read.

Light refreshments were served after the meeting. Final plans were reported on the supper to be served by the D.U.V. for the Oxford County Republicans supper meeting at the East Stoneham Church vestry on June 14. The next meeting will be held at the K. of P. Hall here in Stoneham on June 29 at 7:30 p.m. Eleanor Nelson won the mystery package.

Lois and Eddie Niemi told me they were looking out their kitchen window one morning recently and saw a big fat bobcat going across their yard. Lois said he had been well fed by the looks of him.

Our friends, the hummingbirds are here now and I did get their food out for them. Now, I have a different kind of birdfeeder that I got from Carolyn Osgood. (Chet makes them.) Guess I have got to get some oranges for that one. Anybody got some old oranges? A special kind of bird likes that. We learn something every day.

I surely hope the sun comes out by the time you read this. I guess we will have to get a sun-lamp and turn it on and make believe it is the real thing. Do you suppose that would make us feel better?

Joyce White, Midge, and I worked at the voting polls on last Tuesday from noon until 6 p.m. This was about the school budgets. It was a small turnout.

The Waterford-Stoneham Lions Club met on May 19 at the Stoneham Rescue Barn for their May meeting. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. King Lion Paul Hersey opened the meeting with 14 members present and three guests.

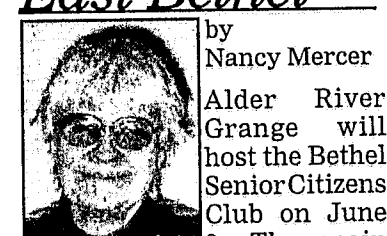

At the convention, which was held in Lewiston, they received the district award for their gift of $450 to the Fidelco (the seeing eye guide dog project).

The public bean supper was discussed. This will be taking place at the Wilkins House in Waterford on June 11. There will be a dessert bake-off and auction, which sounds interesting.

The meeting adjourned at 7:50 p.m. and the next meeting is June 16 at Camp Susan Curtis where there will be a community supper at 6 p.m. (no charge) with Lions meeting in the lounge afterward at 6:45 or 7 p.m.

Alder River Grange will host the Bethel Senior Citizens Club on June 8. The main course will be ravioli alfredo with salads and dessert. Alder River Grange will have a regular meeting on June 10 at the hall, with a 6:30 p.m. potluck supper and the meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Millie Jackson and Lorie Olson and her family visited Lorie's sister, Leslie Mickool, in Abingdon, Va., recently Millie said when she got home she had to take a vacation from the trip. Jarrod Crockett is home from college in Virginia and is now working in Augusta.

Marilyn Mollicone of Augusta, Carolyn Grant of Winterport and Alice Grant of Cape Elizabeth visited Nina Mollicone over the Memorial Day weekend.

Clare Piawlock celebrated her birthday on May 26.

Donna Curtis had two May baskets hung at her home for her. One of the hangers was Joan Tedford and the other was Pearl Jordan.

Becky Dalke of Massachusetts visited Florence Hastings recently.

Lillian Moore and June Andrews of South Paris visited Arlene Harrington on May 29.

Janice Hill visited Arlene Harrington on May 29.

Scott and Wendy Annis' grandson, Thorn, of Massachusetts visited May 23 thru 30. His parents came over the weekend to visit and pick up Thorn as well.

Wendy Annis has also seen a bobcat at her place, and with a zoom lens got a good picture of the cat. And Ken Grover has also seen a bobcat down behind his barn. These sightings were recent.

Maybe everyone can get their gardens planted if the sun will warm the ground up a bit.

Eric Wight and Nathan Wight have had visitors of the bear type recently. Their birdfeeders have been upset.

Nina Mollicone even had the "calling card" of a bear as it upset her birdfeeder.

A big "thank you" to Jackson-Silver Post 68 for honoring our War Dead in East Bethel. There was a good turnout to witness the honors.

A few rays of sunshine feels

The town offers its sincerest sympathy to Ada Cummings, Debbie and Owen Brown, Macky and Howard Chapman, Joyce and Ellsworth (Willie) Hathaway and their extended families on the death of Philip "Pip" Cummings, Tuesday evening at the Veteran's Home in West Paris. Pip will long be remembered for his sense of humor and ready wit and for enjoying his family and friends. He will leave a big void in the lives of those who knew him best and will be sadly missed.

It has been a busy three weeks at our church. First, there was Mother's Day and for the first time I had the dubious distinction of being the oldest mother there. I received a nice book so that sort of compensated, I guess. At 22, Angie Dean, mother of Harley and Hiram, was the youngest. The next week was Membership Sunday and we had a Fellowship Dinner following church, and then this past week we had Angel Barrios, evangelist from the Maryland district in for the two services on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings. Wednesday was the scheduled speaker at First Assembly of God and from there to the airport in Manchester, N.H., to return to Maryland where he was scheduled to speak on Thursday evening. Now that is a busy man. Mary Thacker had charge of the Wednesday evening service at our church where we usually have a short worship and prayer service and then "The Purpose Driven Life" study group meets with the pastor downstairs and "Praying God's Will for Your Life" study group meets upstairs with Elizabeth Putnam. Since there was only one person taking the downstairs study who was able to be there, Mary, who was to do the study in Pastor Justin's place, decided we would all stay upstairs and join Elizabeth's group. We had a good discussion about how the Holy Spirit helps us to pray for God's will in our lives.

On Monday, I joined my cousins, Carol (nee Flint) and Dan Hatch, at the Hatch home in Turner, and Frank and Suzie Flint of Duluth, Ga., who were up for a visit, for lunch and a good time of talking over old family ties and other enjoyable memories and current events and the grandchildren. Carol and Dan have an 18-month-old Maddie, parents, Michael and Melissa Hatch, and son and wife, Matthew and Danielle Hatch are expecting in July and Frank and Suzie have 14-year-old Erica, and nine-year-old Christopher, by daughter, Wendy, and her husband, whose name I am ashamed to say I never can remember, and Emily Leona and Carmen Elizabeth, three and one, by son, Brian Flint and his wife, whose name I cannot remember, either, which is disgusting. As you can see we talk more about the grandchildren. We had not been all together for a couple years, so we all had a great time. It was certainly a wet day to be traveling, but I got down and back safely, obviously.

On Tuesday, I took Diane Thurston to Norway to see her doctor and she treated me to lunch at Wendy's. We also went to Wal-Mart and to East Oxford so Diane could see a couple of her aunts. We had a good time.

North Newry

Newry's Memorial Day Service was well attended on Sunday,

May 29, at the Town Hall. Refreshments were served prior to the noon-time ceremony. Roger Hanscom led the prayers; names were read of those who served their country in many wars. It was very moving to be a participant, to see the men raise and lower the flag, hear words of memorial and hear taps and the guns being fired.

The Dunns had a fair season of maple syrup producing. Nevertheless, it is delicious. They are spending a few days fishing at Moosehead Lake, after, returning from Richardson Lake for the long weekend. The Barry family was not here this past weekend — better weather on the Cape — maybe.

Dave and Dad Lowell are still cutting firewood — my wood and others' is in good hands.

Patty Lowell, always giving a helping hand, is caring for Nicole Barry overnights while Elise is undergoing surgery in Boston. We all wish Elise well and love for a speedy recovery and return to her home.

It's great to have the Bear River Trading Post in operation. The Webster family is at the helm and is a welcome addition to the community.

Bill and Sylvia Wight enjoyed many members of their family during the past weekend; all attended the Memorial Service.

The hummingbirds are back. Five were vying for the three-port feeder on the deck — another feeder is out front — but they still flit around one. One doesn't have to buy colored sugar water for them. The feeders have enough red on them to attract the birds. The sugar mixture should be one part sugar to four parts water. Clean your feeder every three or four days with warm water and use new sugar/water when putting back out.

Birthday greetings to Lee Swan — we all enjoyed his Special Party last year at the Grange Hall.

The Old School House in North Newry looks wonderful and we welcome Mr. and Mrs. Brackett. Their daughter, Liz, is refurbishing the home that Norman Tetley used to occupy.

We have had another week of rain. I have checked and I have not gotten web feet yet, maybe you have.

Rena is home at Albert and Marie's.

Leonas has had surgery and is home doing good.

Mary had an eye doctor's appointment in Boston and had eye surgery. She will have to go back to Boston for check-ups. It is too bad they could not do eye transplants.

Wayne Hakala is doing good, but may have to go for surgery before next month.

Andover

by

Hello readers. Well Memorial weekend turned out pretty decent after all. I got to mow my lawn, (at least the part that my daughter missed; this is her first year mowing, but it is a help.)

Speedy recovery wishes to Jeff Rainey, who had surgery recently.

Get well wishes to Elaine Morton, who also had recent surgery.

About a week ago I realized that Brenda Bailey had surgery on her foot. Belated get well wishes to you Brenda, you'll probably be back to work by the time this hits the paper.

The Andover Historical society would like to announce that they will be open during the summer, for those interested in going through the building and viewing all the nice Andover artifacts. The hours will be 1:30 until 4 p.m. on the first and third Friday afternoons of the month.

son, of Salem, N.H., were at their camp in Bethel over the weekend, and they also attended the Alumni Banquet on Saturday. On Sunday they visited with her brother and his wife, Roger and Dotty Mills.

Their were 130 seated at the Andover Alumni Banquet on May 28. Ten of the 14 graduates attended. The Farrington Family was the only four-generation group. Senior Lauren Barletta, accompanied by senior classmate Mike Brown, sang a beautiful song. Many awards were given out. (I hope to have more on the awards for next week's paper.)

Welcome back to Phyllis and Leon Simmons; hopefully you brought the sun and heat with you.

Happy birthday this week to Jodi Putnum, second grade, and Carl Cuff, first grade.

Monday, June 6, the Elementary School has a home softball game against Crescent Park starting at 3:45 p.m. Have a nice weekend.

Bryant Pond

by Alice Hoyt

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, June 2, at the Eggcoettera in Poland for eat-out lunch. Be there by 11:30 a.m. to eat.

Services at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5 p.m., evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday is prayer meeting at 6:30 p.m., and Thursday morning at 9 a.m. is ladies' prayer time.

Franklin Grange 124 will meet on Monday, June 6, for a Memorial Service and election of officers. Remember the Grange Fair coming up on July 16. Crafts, food, white elephants, Christmas in July. Special things for the kids to do. Lunch at noon.

The Senior Citizens group will put on a sale, Flea Market/Food Sale/whatever, at the Grange Hall on Saturday, June 25. Good clothing. Donations for this sale are welcome. They may be left at the Hall the night before.

The next Historical Society meeting on June 11 will be on the Bryant family in keeping with the county Bicentennial. They were here when the county was organized.

The Historical Society has an active summer planned for an organization their size. They were glad they could start with Gil Whitman's fine talk and exhibit. There will be small exhibits throughout the summer, so check in at the museum often and come for the Flea Market on July 16 and the History Day. They have collections of art, furniture, glass, china, quilts, dresses, uniforms, tools, tins, jewelry, postcards, farm implements, small antiques, old photos and books.

Note: Due to computer problems, several town columns could not be printed this week. We will try to print as much of the news as remains timely next week.

Another of those old-fashioned dances, preceded by a supper, will take place on June 14 at the American Legion hall on Gore Road in Locke Mills. The meal of baked beans, casseroles, salads and pies will begin at 5:30 p.m., with dancing to follow until 9:30 p.m. The dance music will be by the popular Parisians. Cost is $7 for age 12 and over, $3 for under 12.

From the

West Paris Old Home Days Committee

West Paris Old Home Days, June 3 through 5, has added some exciting new activities. Test your creativity Saturday, the 4th at 2:30 p.m. in the Anything Goes race down Derby Hill. Contestants must be at least 18 years of age and vehicles must have brakes and steering. Inventive minds are considering remodeling scooters, baskets, toboggans, crates, and boxes. Call Dennis Henderson with questions.

A bike clinic, the idea of Matt Jones (10 year old son of Jean and Randy) will be held at the Legion Memorial School playground on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The Bike Shop in Locke Mills will be examining the bikes.

The Snowmobile Club will host breakfasts on Saturday and Sunday.

The Baby Contest, originally scheduled for Saturday, will be held on Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Fire Station. Contact Terri Merrill or Joan Poland for more information.

For more teenage entertainment the committee has added an inflatable rock climb, a bungee run, and an obstacle race.

On Sunday, the Unitarian-Universalist Church on Main Street will offer at 9 a.m. a "Service of Memories" for anyone wishing to attend.

These new activities plus a kids parade on Friday, a grand parade on Saturday, a model train show, beano, street dancing, a fishing derby fireworks, a six-foot bear carving by Rodney Richards, and a car show are only a few of the festivities expected near the midway on Kingsbury Street. Food? How about a baked bean supper, a chicken barbecue, a deep-fried turkey dinner, and midway food vendors? Plan to join the fun.

From the

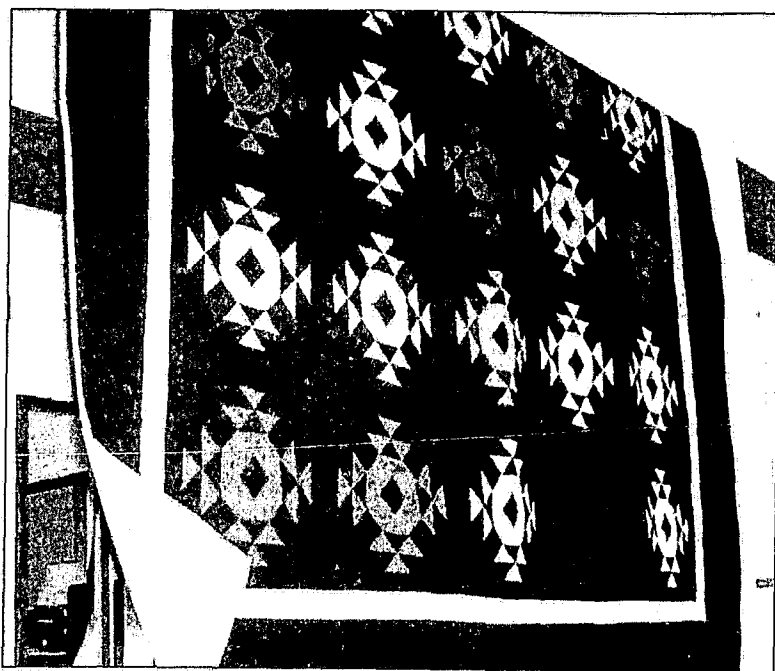

West Paris Public Library

The West Paris Public Library invites the public to meet two very interesting local authors at open houses at the library during the town's Old Home Days celebration.

Jennifer Loomis, renowned wildlife and wilderness photographer and author from Greenwood, will be at the "Little Castle" library on Friday, June 3, from 5 to 7 p.m. Please, come and talk to Ms. Loomis about her adventures doing this unusual work. She will have her "Wood Duck" book with her, which is written for children and adults, and her Loon Calendar, which features all local loons.

Possibly we will get to see her latest book on the Montana wilderness, literally hot off the presses, if it arrives in time.

Randall Probert, a retired game warden from Bethel, has written four engaging books about his experiences in the Great Outdoors. He will be at the library on Saturday, June 4 from 1 to 3 p.m. Please stop by the library to meet Mr. Probert and hear about his fascinating experiences.

The library is located on Main Street in the village of West Paris.

From the

Maine Conservation School

The Maine Conservation School has received a $25,000 grant from the Stephen and Tabitha King Foundation to improve and renovate camp bunkhouses.

This year, campers will be staying in improved facilities at the Maine Conservation School, Bryant Pond campus, thanks to the generosity of the Kings. Improvements and renovations have been underway since late last year and will be completed before the start of the summer season.

"These improvements ensure that our campers have a safe, comfortable and enjoyable experience. I would like to publicly thank the Kings for their generosity and commitment to the young people of Maine," says MCS executive director, Scott Olsen.

The MCS Summer Camp season begins June 26 and runs through Aug. 26. Programs vary from one to four weeks.

For almost 50 years, the Maine Conservation School's camp and school programs have introduced children and adults to a unique blend of outdoor fun, environmental education, and practical outdoor skills.

School Sports

High School Varsity Baseball

Telstar 11, Mt. Valley 3; May 28— Telstar's Ryan Savage had a home run and a double in a win over Mt. Valley. Terry Collins was the winning pitcher, and also had a double.

High School Varsity Softball

Telstar 11, Mt. Valley 0; May 28— Telstar's Jillian Kimball had four hits and Jessie Farrington got the win on the mound over Mt. Valley.

High School J.V. Softball

Oxford Hills 13, Telstar 11; May 24— The JV softball team suffered their first loss of the season on a cold, rainy day. Joselyn Belanger led the way with 3 hits, including a triple, and Megan Smith chipped in with 2 hits including a double.

TMS Baseball

Telstar 10, Dirigo 9; May 24— Telstar defeated Dirigo

in a seventh inning come-from-tied victory. James Kimball pitched the whole game with seven strike outs and a lot of team defense support. Leo Buck popped his first home run of his young middle school career while, Deagan Conrad, Tim Fifield, James Kimball, Lance Brown and Ben Cross all had hits.

TMS Softball

TMS 14, Dirigo 4(5 innings); May 24— The TMS Varsity softball team defeated Dirigo 14-4 in a soggy contest. After a wet first inning Candace Hall shed her sweatshirt and frustrations to mow down the Dirigo batters in the remaining innings. Allowing only 1 base runner after the first inning who Andrea Gunther threw out to Katie Smith at 2nd base in a great play. In the 5 inning shortened game, Hall collected 5 walks, 8 strike outs, and allowed only one hit who happened to be the first batter of the game. Support came in the form of superb defense and hustle by the entire fielding team. The offense was sparked by Michaela Cummings and Andrea Gunther with 3 hits each, Liz Merrill had 2 hits including a triple, Hall and Whitney Mills each had a double and singles by Sam Largess, Katie Smith and Eva Thornton. This was a great effort by the whole team in miserable conditions.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

MAKING INTELLIGENT PRICING DECISIONS

Pricing your home is one of the most important decisions you must make when selling your property. Some sellers want to price their home based on the return they would like on their initial investment, while others will base the price on what they need to buy their new home. However, location, condition, and accessibility are three variables that will affect the price of a property.

It is crucial to price your home correctly from the beginning because it will not sell if it is overpriced. Don't make the mistake of thinking that you can reduce the price later, because you will have already lost many potential buyers. The motivation of the seller is another very important factor. The higher the seller's motivation, the lower the price, and low motivation will mean a higher price.

The state of your local real estate market is one of the strongest determining factors when pricing your home. A professional Realtor will be able to guide you through the pricing pitfalls with a written market analysis that includes the selling prices for similar homes in your area.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771
